New Directions to Develop Affordable Housing for Low-income Seniors

36-unit apartment building planned for Louisville’s Portland neighborhood

Submitted by Kitty McKune, New Directions Housing Corporation

Change is in the air at Roosevelt Apartments, located at 226 N 17th Street, on the eastern edge of the Historic Portland neighborhood. New Directions plans to optimize the Roosevelt Apartments’ strategic location by developing an active intergenerational campus including:

- The substantial rehabilitation of the existing historic school complex which contains 47 affordable housing units; and
- The construction of a new $8.8 million 36-unit senior affordable housing development on the site.

By connecting to the existing infrastructure of Roosevelt Apartments, New Directions will create an active intergenerational campus with both Roosevelt Apartments and the new Roosevelt Senior Housing sharing re-imagined site amenities, parking, and community services facilities.

The existing Roosevelt Apartments were originally rehabbed in 1995-1997 by New Directions from the Theodore Roosevelt Elementary School, which was built in 1865 and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. In addition to the upgrade of the existing 47-unit Roosevelt Apartments, the new 36 unit Roosevelt Senior Housing will reactivate a presently unimproved and under-utilized portion of the Roosevelt Campus.

A critical innovation of the Roosevelt Campus approach will be the intergenerational opportunities, programs, services, and activities that will be managed by New Direc-

AHOY from your friends at Portland Museum!

We are happy to report that we’ve successfully navigated 2021, and are grateful for the immeasurable amount of love we’ve felt from our community through thick and thin. This past year, Portland Museum saw its essential role within the fabric of our community sewn deeper than ever before. As we all continue to readjust our lives and wrap our hearts around those in need, we are humbling asking you to continue to support our work. We would like to highlight some of our new partners – from internationally recognized names to locally cherished Portland heroes – and project to keep this patchwork expanding into 2022 and beyond:

Our expanded campus saw several vital improvements in 2021, and we facilitated a heartfelt embellishment on a prominent building downtown. Our Adventure House of You project next door finished its first phase of renovations, including a full structural overhaul, courtesy of Portland-based contractor Ryan Stoess and crew. We partnered with Louisville Metro and the KY Humanities Council to rescue a 9’ x 16’ stained glass masterpiece from city storage and permanently installed it into the facade of our building. The piece was created in 1978 by Bob Markert, and we were privileged to hold a dedication ceremony in his honor.

Our new Executive Director Katy Delahanty was hired at the beginning of 2021, and she kicked things off with a major initiative to honor the legacy of Portland based education pioneer Henrietta Helm. In March, a large-scale portrait mural of Mrs. Helm was painted high up on the side of 429 West Muhammad Ali Blvd, by artists Darius Dennis and Jared Diaz. We’ve since raised over $30K with a team of institutions and Christina Lee Brown to honor Helm’s legacy by endowing an annual scholarship to help train future Black educators through the University of Louisville’s Teacher Residency Program.

We found new friends within The Smithsonian, who played an active role in two of our main exhibits this past year, first by acquiring an art piece into their collection from our show For The Birds, created by Portland Museum board member Stan Squirewell. Next, they partnered with us and the KY Humanities Council to showcase their Voices and Votes traveling exhibit under our roof.

Jon Cherry went for our museum trifecta in 2021, with his powerful photography appearing in both For the Birds and Voices and Votes, then finally a solo show as part of 2021’s Photo Biennial.

One of the most exciting initiatives we threw ourselves into this year was the pursuit of a precious, controversial old carousel. Most longtime Louisville residents

Personal

You was my momma/guardian too for a short time. Always a role model to me. Our love for ours is like poppaw and your moms. No doubt about it.

Dying of a broken heart! I feel like I have been since 2009. My true love hurt me so bad! I will never be the same. He didn't leave me that he naturally died, he left me for drugs. Neither of us will ever be right. I am so so weak & sad. Got over being sick and mad. Jesus loves me I guess thats all that matters. I made him the king. He made me the queen. Then there went everything. Drugs destroy lives. RKM

Christ Dun I miss you terrible. February 15, 2020 you left this world, You got out of control on 22nd. I got my own spot for your memorial where my things don't go in the trash or fly in the wind. Love you, aunt Dee Dee.

I want to thank my wonderful son Lance Wright for the car he gave me. I also want him to know how much he is loved, Mom.

A huge Thank You to the community of St. Agnes church and school for their generous donations. We were able to distribute grocery gift cards from Sav-a-Lot to folks in the neighborhood. The community of St. Agnes also made donations to the First Division Police Auxiliary Christmas Party. ## AHOY from your friends at Portland Museum!

remember Fontaine "Fountain" Ferry Park for better or for worse. The large amusement park resided on the banks of the Ohio at what is now Shawnee Park. We tracked down its century-old carousel to a storage container at a Six Flags park 300 miles away, and sent a team of passionate community members along with carousel expert Bradford Perron to evaluate its condition. We are currently negotiating acquisition of the carousel both as an artifact that can be restored and ridden by everyone, and as an interactive teaching tool about Louisville's racial history. Bringing this carousel home would be a compassionately progressive "Full Circle" moment!

We closed out an active year of programming with an exceptional 8th Annual Portland Art in Heritage Fair in our backyard. Among the various activities was an art show curated by Louisville Visual Art, a free massage/acupuncture clinic from Tip it Forward, local craft & food vendors, and a full day of free outdoor family fun! The pinnacle was a two-hour command performance by the River City Drum Corp to honor the career of founder/Portland Museum board member Ed "Nardie" White.

Portland Museum has signed a contract with the esteemed Weber Group Founders Tom and Donny Weber lived and learned in the West End before creating one of America's most extraordinary design, architecture, and fabrication firms, and we're thrilled to welcome them home. Weber has a focus on historic preservation, innovation, and unconventional thinking, and they have collaborated with immersive spaces and theme parks globally. They also happen to be headquartered a mere 15 minutes north of us! With AHOY looking to be Louisville's first children's museum centered on immersive art and play, we want it to be nothing less than the best. Please join us in this dream and contribute to this life-changing endeavor for not only Portland, but for our entire region!

As always, we could do none of this without you. We greatly value your support!

Wishing you health and love on behalf of our dedicated Board of Trustees,

Katy Delahanty, Danny Seim and William Smith

Be Good to Your Heart

When you celebrate Valentine's Day this month, give your heart a little love too!

How does my heart work?

Your heart is actually a muscle. This muscle squeezes about 60 to 80 times a minute to pump your blood through it. You have miles and miles of arteries and veins that are like a pipe system leading from your heart to every part of your body. Your vital organs depend on the constant supply of oxygen and nutrients they get from the blood your heart is pumping.

What can hurt my heart health?

High blood pressure: The force of blood pushing against the walls of your arteries and veins is your "blood pressure." Normal blood pressure for adults is less than 120/80 mmHg. If you have high blood pressure (also called hypertension), your blood is pushing harder than normal on the walls of your blood vessels which can damage them and also puts extra strain on your heart. This damage and strain can lead to heart disease, heart attack, and stroke.

High cholesterol: Cholesterol is a soft, fat-like substance found in your blood and cells. When there is too much cholesterol in your blood, it can join up with other fats to clog the arteries. These clogs can reduce blood flow to the heart, causing a heart attack, or to the brain, causing a stroke.

Smoking: Smoking cigarettes (or using other tobacco products like e-cigarettes/vaping and cigars) can cause heart problems by increasing blood pressure, narrowing the arteries, increasing cholesterol, making blood more likely to clot, and making less oxygen available for the heart muscle to work.

Obesity and diabetes: Obesity and diabetes can cause heart problems by increasing blood pressure, increasing cholesterol, and more.

How can I help my heart?

- Make an appointment with your health provider to have your blood pressure and cholesterol checked.
- Sign up for programs to improve your heart health with physical activity, healthier eating, and relaxation. For more information, check the Family Health Centers website www.fhclouisville.org/health or call Kristin (502) 772-8588.

There ought to be a law!

Hunkering down for another dispersed winter due to covid and the cold has me thinking the only logical thing to do: Change the dang laws around here! Whereas everyone says changing and making laws are hard to do, I say nothing wrong with at least drafting a few bills that make you feel better. So I did it; might even send it to Frankfort for review; at least I gave them a piece of my mind. Do you have a piece of mind too? --then read on and I'll show you the trick. The trick is to use overly tiring conjunctions and mostly 'Whereas'. Whereas-- answers the legitimate question of "Why do you want to draft a bill for consideration of a law?" Hold my beer..

Draft for Bill to avow Portland Neighborhood as the best kept secret in KY.

--Whereas Portland has so many vacant and abandoned homes and negligent homeowners, it's a great place for the young and poor to buy a dump and fix it up while living in it and starting a family and saving for a better home in Germantown.
 --Whereas the only laws to worry about are those that are enforced...so sliding thru stop signs at Portland intersections is like, " officer, the guy looked spooky so I wanted to remove myself from what looked to me to be a dangerous intersection". How cool is that!
 --Whereas sharing an electrical extension cord with the folks living in the abandoned home next door is just normal, lugging water from next door to cut the water bill in half between the two homes is now trending. Shhh!
 --Whereas no one in Portland would ever dream of letting the world know it's the best kept secret, the cat's obviously out of the bag and can't be put back in.
 --Whereas living in a finished home is fine, it is too tempting not to buy the bomb down the street and working on it as a future income property as one has time.
 --Whereas everyone understands that leveraging a foreclosure by purchasing a tax lien by a fellow Kentuckian is a solution to solve many problems, Portlanders don't care that haters in Frankfort recently took away this tool. Honey badger just gets it done!

--Whereas the history and legends under foot in Portland is truly profound, the locals do their best to create their own mounds of history by means of strong actions and--frankly--litter.

--Whereas the booming tent cities under freeway viaducts and park forests are transient and fleeting, the population of unregistered, un-addressed folks are rock steady and make for interesting political discussions by all.

Be it thus resolved that the neighborhood of Portland in Jefferson County KY is considered by this austere body as the best secret in Kentucky. This draft, once submitted, will take about a year to be mulled around and tweaked by the power brokers, so at the earliest, you can expect debate on this bill in not this legislative session, but rather the one in 2023. Using Google Calendar is useful since draft bills move about as fast as molasses in January (especially since it has no corporate sponsor)...so much so that it could easily slip away into oblivion or get smashed into unrecognizable sausage. Speaking of sausage, please remember that Portland is closer to the Mayor's resolute desk than even Butchertown--and that's saying something. So if this bill doesn't get anywhere in Frankfort, maybe we can pass something by means of a Metro Executive Order (sic) by leaning hard on City Hall

You may not like this draft bill, but I think it's much better than the law that designates burgoo as the official dish of the commonwealth. Start working on your draft--even this minute.

Start small; fail fast,

New Directions to Develop Affordable Housing for Low-income Seniors

ions staff. The rehabilitated community space at Roosevelt Apartments, together with other community space at Roosevelt Senior Housing, will serve as hubs of activity for intergenerational programs and activities, such as:

- Volunteer tutoring for reading and other educational skills for children;
- Mentoring programs, in the style of the Big Brother/Big Sister programs, matching youth with senior adults who can serve as positive role models; and
- Healthy eating and physical activity programs that can benefit and be shared by young and old alike.

VBNA Architects are the architect for Roosevelt Senior Housing as well as the renovations for Roosevelt Apartments. Bosse Construction, LLC will be the General Contractor for both phases of this development. This will ensure that the Roosevelt Campus is an integrated design—not just two separate properties.

Financing for Roosevelt Senior Housing is spearheaded through a $5.2 million award from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) which was announced in September, 2021. Louisville Metro Government (LMG) has also committed $500,000 in HOME Funds. HOPE of the Midwest, LLC has signed on as the construction/permanent lender.

The redevelopment of the existing Roosevelt Apartments will be financed through an allocation of 9% Low-Income Housing Tax Credits by Kentucky Housing Corporation and a $300,000 award from the Kentucky Affordable Housing Trust Fund, which were just announced this week. PNC Bank will be the tax credit investor in the project and HOPE of the Midwest, LLC will provide construction and permanent lending.

New Directions hopes to break ground on these developments sometime in late 2022.

All of these units are affordable housing units for low-income residents who meet certain income requirements. The senior units will be leased to residents age 62 and above that meet certain income requirements.

Recipes from the Ladies of Baptist Tabernacle

February, winter is still hanging on, but you tell yourself spring is just around the corner. So, what to make for dinner? Easy answer, something warm, filling, and different. After all, we all need a little different every once in a while.

Company Macaroni and Cheese

but family deserves the best, too

3 cups Elbow Macaroni
 ½ stick of butter
 ½ cup chopped onions
 ½ cup of flour
 6 slices of bacon
 1 cup Cheese loaf cut into cubes
 salt and pepper to taste
 1 cup milk
 ½ cup shredded Cheddar Cheese

Boil macaroni 11 minutes. Fry bacon and crumble. Drained macaroni and place in 2 qt casserole. Set aside. Melt butter in a sauce pan, add flour a little at a time until you have a paste (you might need more, or less, flour). Stir in milk and cubed cheese. When cubes are melted add shredded Cheddar. Stir constantly until all cheeses have melted add bacon bits. Add to macaroni and blend well. Sprinkle more shredded cheese on top. Bake in a 360 degree oven for 55 -60 minutes, or until cheese on top is golden brown.

Monthly Meat Loaf

1 lb ground beef
 can tomato sauce
 1 lb sausage
 ½ cup oat meal
 ½ cup chopped onion
 1 egg
 ½ cup diced green pepper
 a dash of hot sauce

Heat oven 360 degrees. In a large mixing bowl blend ground beef and sausage. You might have to use your hands to do this. Add the remaining ingredients and mix well. Save a little of the tomato sauce. Mold into a skillet or loaf pan, which ever you prefer. Bake in oven for 45-50 minutes. Meanwhile, with the tomato sauce you saved stir in 1 tbs of apple vinegar and 2 tbs of brown sugar. After meat loaf has been in oven 45-50 minutes, pour over meat and bake another 8-10 minutes longer. Cool at least 5 minutes before serving.

(I call this monthly meat loaf because I make it once a month because I want to. That's why.)

You need something green to go with that meat loaf and the mac and cheese dish. I suggest a can or two of green beans. Place in a sauce pan and add some of that bacon grease you have from the mac and cheese dish. Simmer over a low to med. heat to let those lonely green beans absorb that bacon flavor. Your taste buds will thank you.

Sausage-Spinach Pie

1 lb pork sausage
 ½ cup of biscuit mix
 ½ cup chopped onion
 1 cup milk
 1 lb bag frozen spinach,
 thawed and drained
 2 eggs
 1 ½ cups shredded Cheddar
 salt and pepper to taste

Heat oven 400 degrees and spray 9 in. pie plate with cooking spray. Cook sausage and onion in skillet over medium heat until meat is no longer pink. Stir occasionally. Mix sausage and onion, spinach, salt and pepper in skillet. Spread in pie plate. Stir biscuit mix, milk, eggs and 1 cup of cheese in a bowl until well blended. Pour into pie plate. Bake 25 minutes. Sprinkle remaining cheese on top and bake 5 minutes longer, or until cheese has melted. Cool for 5 minutes before serving.

Your family just might expect desert. Here's something simple. You could make this the day before.

Chocolate Chip Oatmeal Cookies

1 box yellow
 cake mix
 2 eggs
 1 cup quick oat
 1 cup chocolate chips
 1 ½ sticks butter or margarine, softened

Heat oven 350 degrees. Combine cake mix, oats, butter and eggs in large bowl, mix well. Stir in chocolate chi[s]. Drop by rounded teaspoons onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool slightly before placing of cookies on wire racks to cool completely. You should get 4 dozen but, find a good hiding place until supper tomorrow.

As always stay warm and healthy and remember no matter what the circumstances God is always near.
